Stories, Games and Jugglers, Oh My!

By Eric Tripoli

Libraries all around the country opened their doors on Saturday, February 2 to commemorate National Take Your Child To The Library Day, an event that celebrates the great things local libraries offer the youngest members of their communities.

"This is the second annual celebration," said children's librarian Linda Burke of the Mattapoisett Free Public Library. "We wanted people to visit the library with their children to see that we have more to offer than just books."

The party started at 10:00 am with storytellers reading books aloud to local youth gathered in the kids' section.

"We have people reading to the children all day long," said Burke.

Local kids got to sit and read with Sadie the reading dog and enjoyed a screening of the Pixar film, Brave, complete with popcorn. Some played chess while others built original creations out of LEGO bricks.

In the afternoon, dozens of kids and parents gathered downstairs to watch a performance by the entertainer Criss-Cross, who demonstrated his juggling and unicycle skills.

Laurie Davignon of Mattapoisett had heard about the event from Burke earlier in the week and decided to bring her two children for the celebration.

"It was something different. It's really fun!" she said.

Davignon's eight-year-old son, Quinn, said his interest was piqued when his mom told him about the juggler.

"My parents told me about it and it sounded really exciting," he said.

"This place has become more of a community center, more than just a library," Burke said, adding that none of it would be possible with the countless volunteers

Young Inventors Exhibit Creations

By Eric Tripoli

When we think of inventors, we may recall the likes of the enigmatic Nikola Tesla or Benjamin Franklin and his design for bifocal lenses. But all great inventors must start somewhere and on Thursday, January 31, the Shining Tides Preschool hosted its Annual Invention Convention, featuring the creations of some of its younger members.

The program begins with some lessons on simple machines, such as pulleys, levers and inclined planes. From there, the kids are encouraged to bring in things from around the house which they can use to construct their own machines.

"They'll bring anything from old phones, computers, clocks," said Childcare Director Tricia Weaver. "Then, they have two 'take apart' days where they open up what they brought and take out what's inside."

After that, the kids, whose ages range from two years and nine months to five years old, get to survey the internal components of the items they brought. Then, it's up to them to use their imaginations to create their inventions. The kids start the process by drawing blueprints of their designs.

The Invention Convention is their night to show off their machines for their parents and friends.

"They get to stand up and present [their inventions]. It gives them self-confidence to get up in front of people and talk about what they made," said Weaver.

There were about 10 inventions presented at the convention. Among them were a bed-making machine, magnetic crane and a cake machine.

"I made a mermaid machine," said four-year-old Nora during her presentation. "And it makes sparkles."

Emma, who is also four, made a rainbow machine.

"Rainbows are my favorite," she said after the presentations were done. According to her parents, she's always been one to take things apart.

"Ever since she was a baby, she always liked seeing what's inside and putting it back together," said her mother, Kari.

"She's been very excited to show us what she made," said Matt, her father.

Though she is young, Emma's parents see a curious and bright mind and they want to keep encouraging her to pursue what interests her the most.

"It teaches them how to use different things in order to be creative and she loves learning how things work," Matt said.

The skating party was organized by the Cub Scout Parent Council in conjunction with the Marion Recreation Department, which offered its regular two-hour block of public skating at the rink for use by the scouts.

According to Matthew Baltz, president of the council and co-organizer for the event, all proceeds will go to various scouting activities throughout the year.

"We'll set up funding so kids can go to scout camp in the summer," he said. "It will also be used to offset trip costs."

Many local businesses donated time or goods to the skating party. Uncle Jon's Coffee provided hot beverages for the guests and Kool Kone gave chips and bottled water to the fundraiser.

"We really couldn't have done this as well without them helping out," said Baltz.

This year, the 13 scouts in Pack 32 will be embarking on sleepovers at Camp Hadley, the U.S.S. Massachusetts and the Boston Museum of Science.

While having fun is always a big focus for scouting activities, these opportunities afford the young kids a lot of chances for personal growth and development.

"The Cub Scouts tries to instill a set of values in the kids," said Baltz, who cited the importance of community service, teaching the pack respect for one another, and civil conflict resolution.

"These kids have learned to work together. They respect each other, they help each other out. They do a great job working as a team," he said.

time officer for the station since 2009, and since then, he has made a lasting impression on those who know him in town. He graduated from New Bedford High School and went on to pursue a Sociology and Criminal Justice Degree from UMass Dartmouth. He is currently pursuing his Master's Degree at Boston University.

"He's always demonstrated a high level of professionalism," said Selectman Naida Parker. "He would be an asset to the department."

For the past five months, Brightman has been attending the Police Academy full-time. However, instead of the department paying his tuition, he is self-sponsored, which means he is paying for his own way through the classes. He is due to graduate on February 15.

"It's a big endeavor to do that," said Police Chief Paul Magee.

The Board voted unanimously to bring Brightman onto the force full-time. He will begin on February 17 pending successful completion from the Academy.

In other news, the Financial Committee met with the Board briefly for a basic overview of the rough draft for the town's budget for fiscal year 2014.

"I can assure you that overall, we are in very good financial shape," said Town Administrator Richard LaCamera.

The town will see an increase in state aid, albeit a relatively little amount, in the next year. In FY 2013, Rochester received $2.2 million from the state. In 2014, they will receive an additional $18,000.

Funding for the schools is also looking somewhat inconsistent. Old Colony will receive $55,000 less than they did last year while Old Rochester Regional High School will see a whopping increase of $494,000, which is almost a 20 percent increase from the year before.

"We haven't seen this kind of increase in state aid in six years," said LaCamera.

LaCamera considered the change in formula in determining state aid to be a factor in why the numbers are so different. As it stands now, a school's state aid is determined by computing 50 percent of the town's wealth and 50 percent of the town's property evaluations.

LaCamera has requested reports from Superintendent Douglas White to see if and where there are any discrepancies.

LaCamera told the Board and Committee that if the numbers hold true in the preliminary budget, he does not foresee any reductions in staff, services or programs at the Town Hall and in the schools.

Furthermore, LaCamera explained that for the second year in a row, health insurance costs for town employees would not be increasing.

"That's unbelievable," said Selectman Brad Morse.

An increase in hospital visit co-pays is one reason people are saving money with their health insurance.

Selectmen Appoint Assistant Harbormaster

Marion Board of Selectmen

By Katy Fitzpatrick

The Marion Board of Selectmen appointed a new Assistant Harbormaster and Shellfish Officer upon request of Harbormaster Mike Cormier. The decision to hire Adam Murphy was made at the Board's regular meeting on Tuesday, February 5 in the Marion Town House.

"I've known him for 20 years," said Cormier. "I feel as though he's an excellent boat operator and his emergency response capabilities would be an asset to my department."

The position is both part-time and seasonal. It would last from May through early September and would be from 5:00 to 9:00 pm during the week. In addition to working alongside Cormier, Murphy would also be working at the Fire Department. Selectman Jonathan Henry voiced concerns about possible scheduling problems.

"I wouldn't want there to be a conflict," said Henry. "You wouldn't leave your post to go to a fire, would you?"

Cormier assured the Board that he has firefighters who have worked with him before and the rule is that when on duty on the water, they are not allowed to respond to fire calls. The Board unanimously appointed Murphy.

updated the Board on several ongoing projects about town.

First, the Financial Committee has begun their work reviewing the preliminary budget for fiscal year 2014. A copy has been submitted to the Board and will be reviewed over the coming months to make sure everything is precise.

"It's a complicated process that is by no means complete, but the process has begun and they are well on their way," Dawson said.

Dawson also informed the Board that the Marion Music Hall lighting project is still ongoing. The building is awaiting the last set of fixtures to arrive so they can be installed. The fixtures are currently on back order.

The project to remove the mold from the basement of the Town House is making progress, according to Dawson. Several town records and documents have been cleared out of the basement to make room for the remediation process. The documents will be sorted through and redistributed to other storage locations.

The deadline for businesses to bid on the remediation project was Tuesday, February 5. Five figures were submitted from five companies. Dawson said by the Board's next meeting they should have a recommendation on a company to get the project going.

Lastly, Dawson said he is still exploring the possibility of bringing on board a full-time Facilities Manager to help upkeep the 41 buildings around town that need maintenance. He will continue to study job descriptions from neighboring towns to further outline the specification for the job in Marion.

The Marion Board of Selectmen will meet again on Tuesday, February 19 at 7:00 pm in the Marion Town House.

store's HVAC setup, as well as concerns over traffic backup and motorist safety in and around the gas pumps.

Manny Paiva, an engineer who spoke on behalf of the company, described problems linked to water condensation that builds up inside the stores, causing puddles inside. It's a problem that is not specific to Marion, but has been discovered in several stores across the region.

There was not proper clearance between the condensers and the HVAC systems, causing the condensation inside the coolers.

"The proposal is to take those units, create a small concrete pad, and [move] those condensers," he said. The units would be masked by tall, native vegetation to improve aesthetics.

"It was an unforeseen situation when we were originally permitting the site," said Doug Troyer, an attorney representing the company at the meeting.

"For this location, while it's unique to Marion, it also contains some of the new styles of interior offerings. It was not foreseen that the HVAC would cause this problem, but now it has," he said.

The project, which would require moving the condensers from the roof to the ground level next to the building, would take about four weeks to complete, not including the planting of the vegetation.

The Planning Board voted to deny the proposal so that some members could take more time to research the situation.

In addition to the HVAC problems, Planning Board member Tom Magauran voiced concern that there is an inadequate amount of gas pumps for town residents. He was speaking in response to correspondence between the Board and the company regarding traffic problems in and around the store.

"I think what's painfully obvious is that this store has been very successful, much more so than the previous store ever was. But at the same time, we lost the store across the street. We also lost the gas dispensing facilities across the street ... I honestly think that the amount of volume that's going through that space, which should have been addressed by this Board, clearly illustrates the need in the town of Marion for additional capacity in terms of gas dispensation," Magauran said.

As a result, vehicle crowding in and around the parking of Cumberland Farms has become an issue.

"The traffic flow is awful. In the summer, it's brutal," Magauran said, citing the inability of many motorists to navigate around the lanes to the gas pumps.

"In all honesty, I don't feel that system is of adequate capacity of flow for the town of Marion," he said.

Planning Board Chairman Jay Ryder said that, during the planning phase of the station, parking issues were addressed by the Board and suggested that creating more parking spaces could alleviate the traffic congestion.

"We did talk a little bit about a one-way circulation coming in from Route 6 from Mattapoisett, going into the pumps one way. Then we realized people had tanks on different sides of their cars, so that became an issue as far as traffic flow," Ryder said.

Magauran said that another gas station was required in order to meet the gas needs of the town. He suggested the old service station across the street could be renovated in order to be an active pumping location for local motorists.

Ryder then asked Troyer to suggest to the corporate office a renovation plan for use of that station and for an easing of the restrictions Cumberland Farms has over that property.

"I think we shot ourselves in the foot trying to be too nice," said Magauran. "I'm glad you have a successful store. Everyone who goes there likes it, with the exception of the traffic flow issues."

Troyer said he was amenable to the Planning Board's suggestions and would speak with his corporate clients.

My cat cries for food and then when I open a new can, she sniffs it and walks away. She drives me crazy. What can I do?

Cats that eat canned food develop finicky eating habits and produce much more tartar on their back teeth than cats that eat dry food alone. Make the dry food available and try phasing out the canned food over a few weeks.

I'm afraid that my male cat will develop a urinary obstruction if I feed him dry food. Are there any dry foods that are safe for male cats?

Generally speaking premium cat foods such as Iams and Science Diet are excellent dry cat foods that are readily devoured by most cats. There are also a number of urinary formula cat food that are sold in grocery stores that may help prevent urinary obstructions.

Cutting Club Fees: Winter Homecoming

ORR Update

By Jessica Correia

This week at ORR is the first spirit week and pep rally of recent memory. The event centers on the Friday night basketball game against Bishop Stang. It is essentially a mid-year Homecoming, complete with the spirit days all through the week, a pep rally the last half of the day on Friday, and a dance on Saturday night.

The spirit days are as follows: Monday is Favorite Color Day, Tuesday is Ugly Sweater Day, Wednesday is Mismatch Day, Thursday is Fancy Day, and Friday is White-Out Day. All students are encouraged to dress up to show their school spirit.

The pep rally will be on Friday at 12:45 pm. In straying from the usual Homecoming pep rally tradition, there will not be any class skit competition. Instead, there will be different games and activities to get the school pumped up for the big game. These activities have yet to be disclosed.

The varsity basketball game will be at 6:30 pm in the ORR gymnasium against Bishop Stang on Friday, February 8. All students are encouraged to go support their classmates on the court.

On Saturday, February 9, there will be the Snowball Dance. Just like a second Homecoming, it is open to all grades and will be held in the high school's cafeteria. Unlike Homecoming, all proceeds from the dance, including ticket and concession sales, will go towards lowering the Club and Activities Fee for all students. As of this year, the fee for participating in a non-athletic club is $100. That includes every club from Drama Club to Sci-Fi Club to Film Club and more. In previous years, the Bulldog Dash was the fundraiser to lower the club fees, but as it makes more sense for that to be a fundraiser for the athletic teams, Student Council and Class Officers created the Snowball Dance as the clubs' way of offsetting the fee.

If the turnout of the dance is high, the $100 fee will be cut to a much more preferable amount. However, should turnout to the dance be lousy, the fee will not be cut as much as hoped. Attendance of as many students as possible will directly result in a greater lowering of the fee. Tickets will be sold at lunches all this week.

Activities Program on the Rise

Tabor Academy Update

By Nicholas Veronesi

From magicians dropping bowling balls out of thin air, to peers simulating Family Feud, and the experience of going to a casino without worrying about how it may affect them in the long run, Tabor has it all on the weekends.

It's events like these that make people wonder how some students become homesick.

This has been a year where weekends have become the highlight of one's Tabor experience. It has involved the clever combination of traditional events and new events that separate Tabor from other schools.

"I think the activities have gone well," said Chris Millette, Director of Student Activities. "We've added a few things and reinvented some things. We've also done popular things like trips to Wareham Crossing, Open Mic night and trips to Boston more consistently."

Millette has come through with activities that bring people together in different ways. This year has included past traditions like the Hypnotist show, two Open Mic Nights, and dances with themes based on when it took place (i.e. Halloween, beginning of the school year and Winter/Christmas).

Students have also gone on off-campus trips to Boston, Providence and nearby restaurants, like Turks and Tokyo.

There have also been new events such as the Norman Ng Magic Show, an extravaganza where Norman combines jaw-dropping magic with hysterical humor, and Tabor Fight Night, which gave students the opportunity to fight a friend or faculty member.

Millette claims that Fight Night greatly benefited Tabor, and not just because of its popularity.

"I think Fight Night was the biggest winner this year," he said. "It was new, fun, and it raised a lot of money for the senior class. I think we can make a few tweaks to it and have it be a great tradition for years to come."

This upcoming Saturday features an event that has occurred at Tabor the past couple of Februarys and has drawn a large crowd each time.

Events in the past have included a roulette wheel, a "dice" table, and five poker and blackjack tables. At the end of the night, students could choose from over 25 different prizes.

However, Millette is planning to make it bigger and better than ever.

"It was so popular and crowded last year," he said. "We are adding some more table games so that more kids can sit down and play."

On February 14, there will be an Asian Dinner, which is a popular meal consisting of food from eight different Asian countries (Bahrain, Russia, China, South Korea, Japan, India, Thailand and Vietnam). In the past,

ORR Hockey Can't Get Past Bourne

ORR Sports Update

By Michael Kassabian

It was a hard-hitting hockey game on both sides at the Tabor rink last Wednesday, but the ORR boys' ice hockey team couldn't hold on as they suffered a 2-1 South Coast Conference loss to rival team Bourne.

The game was a decisive one, as it determined whom the SCC championship would go to. The ORR/Fairhaven combo team played well, but a few unlucky plays would give Bourne the win. The Bulldogs started off strong; Jeremy Lawton scored the lone goal for the Bulldogs early in the first period. A physical first period set the tone for the entire game, as there would be countless checks into the boards. Freshman Goalie Chris Nadeau played fairly well, and he provided a key save in the final minute of the first period to preserve the temporary Bulldog lead.

The Canalmen took over in the second period, scoring two goals in the span of about six minutes to take control of the game. The Bulldogs were not as aggressive in the second period, and the lack of tenacity was a key factor for the Canalmen's quick goals.

The third period was scoreless but exciting. The Bulldogs had several opportunities to score, but could never capitalize and tie the game. However, Old Rochester's Cam O'Connor and Zack Matthews each played well in the loss. The tough loss puts the Bulldogs in second place for the SCC.

Several of Old Rochester's freshmen and sophomore track athletes had their time to shine in the 25th Annual Janiak Freshman Sophomore Meet. The meet provides some of the younger athletes the opportunity to compete in races without the dominant presence of upperclassmen. That being said, several excellent performances occurred last Saturday. Sophomore Bailey Truesdale won the 55-meter hurdles in a time of 9.77, and

Plumb Library February Events

• Kathleen Brunelle, author of Bellamy's Bride: The Search for Maria Hallett of Cape Cod, will talk about and read from her book on Saturday, February 9 at 1:00 pm. Brunelle is a teacher at Old Rochester Regional High School and is a local author. The book is about the life and legend of Maria Hallett, Sam Bellamy the pirate, and the sinking of the Whydah. Copies of the book will be available for sale and for signing by the author.

• Just the Facts, the nonfiction book discussion group, will be reading Elizabeth and Hazel: Two Women of Little Rock, by David Margolick. This book is about the lives of women who appear in an iconic photograph of the Civil Rights era that was taken on the first day of integration at Little Rock High School. The book traces the separate but similar worlds of Elizabeth Eckford and Hazel Bryan, how the photograph influenced their lives, and their ultimate friendship. We will be discussing this book on Thursday, February 21 at 6:30 pm. Copies are available at the desk.

• Café Parlez's selection for February is The Unlikely Pilgrimage of Harold Fry, by Rachel Joyce. Harold Fry is recently retired and lives in a small English village. Everything he does seems to irritate his wife, Maureen, until he receives one day a letter addressed to him from a woman he has not seen or heard from in twenty years. She is in hospice and is writing to say goodbye. After writing a reply, he decides that he must deliver it

An adaptation of Harper Lee's Pulitzer Prize winning novel, the film also features Robert Duvall and Alice Ghostley in their film debuts. To Kill a Mockingbird is counted among the greatest American movies of all time, and its protagonist, Atticus Finch, is widely considered the greatest movie hero of the 20th century. The story follows Finch, an idealistic small-town Southern lawyer, as he defends an accused rapist in a racially-charged trial, while trying to instill in his two children principles of fairness and tolerance.

Classic Film Friday presentations are held at the Marion Music Hall (164 Front Street) and are offered free of charge to the public. Films begin at 7:00 pm and refreshments are available. For more information, contact the SHS at 508-748-1116.

chance to lead his favorite team to victory in the pennant race against the New York Yankees. As young baseball sensation Joe Hardy, he transforms the hapless Boston Red Sox into a winning team, only to realize the true worth of the life he's left behind with his loyal wife, Meg. Joe ultimately outsmarts Applegate and the seductive Lola, returns to his former self, and shepherds the Red Sox to the World Series.

Light, fast-paced, and devilishly clever, "Damn Yankees!" is a home-run hit featuring all-American subject matter and an irreverent sense of humor. The show also has a terrific song list ("Heart" and "Whatever Lola Wants") with dynamic, athletic choreography supported by student-designed and built sets and lights. The cast is lead by veteran senior performers: Oliver Palmer as Joe Hardy; Joe Coffey as the older Joe Boyd and the manager, Van Buren; Chapman Hyatt as Applegate, the devil; Clare Knowlton as Lola, his seductive assistant; Claire Chatinover as Meg Boyd; and junior Xan Marsella as Gloria Thorpe. "Damn Yankees!" is directed by John Heavey with musical direction by David Horne, technical direction by Richard Van Voris, choreography by Danielle LaTulippe, lighting design by junior James Barton-Souza and set design by senior Greta Wilsterman.

Mattapoisett Land Trust Offers Scholarship

Since the Pell Grant Award has been eliminated and student loan debt increases, the new generation of America's college-bound students is even more dependent on private foundations and financial aid to cover college costs.

For the fourth year in a row, the Mattapoisett Land Trust is looking to select a qualifying candidate for the $1,000 Blanche B. Perry Scholarship Award. This award is available to a resident senior graduating by June 2013 from secondary school who is pursuing an education in the sciences and/or environmental studies or a related field.

The scholarship is made available through the Edith Glick Shoolman fund, a bequest left to provide support for children in the community. The scholarship is consistent with the Mattapoisett Land Trust mission "of preserving land in order to enrich the quality of life for present and future generations of Mattapoisett residents and visitors and of furthering environmental education in the community."

Marion MMA Fighter Ready to Step into AFO Cage

Mixed Martial Arts (MMA) is one of the fastest-growing sports in the United States. It combines different fighting techniques including Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu, Wrestling, Judo, Karate, Kickboxing, Muay Thai and Taekwondo.

What started out five years ago as unfamiliar territory during the first season of "The Ultimate Fighter" program on television has turned into a can't miss sporting event, gaining viewership rapidly.

But watching and competing in the sport are completely different animals. It's one thing to watch an MMA fight from the comfort of your couch, but to actually step into the cage and go head to head in a fight can be quite daunting.

That's not the case for 35-year-old Marion resident and Old Rochester Regional High School graduate Jim Manning. In just over a week, he will be making his American Fighting Organization (AFO) debut at the Holiday Inn in Boxboro, MA on Saturday, February 16 at 7:00 pm.

"I'm really excited. This is something I've always wanted," said Manning. "I feel prepared, I've trained hard, done my homework and I've got great coaches. I'm looking forward to fight night."

Manning began training in Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu a few years ago after catching MMA fever. During his training, he met his Coach and friend Marcio Silvia. Silvia owns Xcel Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu in New Bedford, where Manning both trains and teaches classes.

"When Coach Marcio opened

katy@wanderer.com

Xcel this summer, we only had three or four students with us," said Manning. "Today, we often have 20 students at our fundamentals classes. We just added kickboxing on Tuesday and Thursday and our youth classes are packed. It's pretty amazing."

For the past eight weeks, Manning has spent six days in "camp," which is what MMA fighters call training. Between teaching classes and taking classes, there are days during the week where Manning spends almost six hours at the gym. That's six hours spent in the gym on top of working full-time as a carpenter and spending time with his kids. But Manning doesn't mind the busy schedule.

"I love waking up every day knowing I've got the chance to out-train my opponent," he said. "I truly believe that if I do that day after day, it will pay off when we meet in the cage. There's no way I'm being outworked."

One week after his fight in Boxboro, Manning will fight again in front of a more local crowd in Plymouth. Cage Fighting Extreme (CFX) 22 will take place at the Jungle Plex and doors will open at 6:30 pm.

"The hardest part of the sport is waiting until it's your turn to fight. I'm not looking forward to that," said Manning.

In two weeks, Manning will have his first two fights as part of the AFO under his belt. What would be a lofty accomplishment for many is only just the beginning for him.

"Hopefully I'll get through these next two fights with two wins and injury free," he said. "Then I'd like one more amateur fight this summer and turn pro by the end of the year."

For more information on Manning or MMA in general, or for tickets to the upcoming fights, contact Marcio Silvia at 774-202-7260 or marcio@xcelbjj.com. For more information about the AFO, visit www.afomma.com.

We look forward to you joining us as we enjoy pancakes with all the toppings. A free-will offering will be taken to support a local charity. Save the date and enjoy the fellowship of our community.

Linda P. Tilden, 72, of Marion, passed away at her home surrounded by friends and family on January 28, 2013. She will be greatly missed and remembered forever in the hearts of her family and friends. Born in New Bedford, Linda was the daughter of the late Preston D. Valley and Lorraine T. Valley. She was the art teacher at Rochester Memorial for many years where she was best known as "T" by her friends and co-workers. Her greatest joy was her family and friends.

Linda created many fond memories for all those around her. Her children talk about weekends on the Cape beaches, dancing in the kitchen, and vacations to Vermont. Countless school children still talk about "happy mistakes" on their artwork and the infamous art cart. The neighborhood kids will tell you about the dragon snow sculpture and the infinite pb & fluff sandwiches she made for everyone. The parishioners of St. Gabriel's still comment on all the kneelers she designed years ago that are still used today. For the grandkids, Nana was the hostess with the mostest and there wasn't a thing in the world she would not do for them.

Survivors include her husband of forty-seven years Tom Tilden, her four children and nine grandchildren; Bill Tilden and his wife Cindy of Marion and their children Lindsay, Amanda Mae, and Zach, Bob Tilden and his wife Michelle of Wareham and his children Samantha and Britney, Becky Carvalho and her husband Tony of Fairhaven and their children Adam and Selena, Laura Edgerton and her husband Chuck of Jeffersonville, Vermont and their children Thomas and Michael. She also leaves behind her two siblings David Valley and his wife Linda and her sister Alice Walsh.

The family wishes to thank all of her friends for the visits, phone calls, and food in the past few months to support Mom in her brave fight against cancer. They would like to thank Hope Hospice for their dedication to making Mom's final days as peaceful as possible. They would also like to thank the South Coast Cancer Center of Fairhaven for providing an exemplary level of care and making Mom and Dad feel like family.

A graveside service will be held at Evergreen Cemetery in Marion on Saturday February 9th at 2:00 PM. Family and friends are invited to attend. In lieu of flowers, we request donations be made in her memory to the Pan Mass Challenge. Bill will be riding the 200 miles in memory of Mom. 100% of the proceeds donated to the riders goes to Dana Farber for cancer research. Donations can be made at ww2.pmc.org/profile/bt0084. Please help us make sure a cure is found.

Arrangements are made by the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Road, Mattapoisett. For online guestbook, visit www.saundersdwyer.com

After graduating high school she assisted her father in his photography and photo finishing business and later went on to run her own card and camera stores. After selling her stores she became a homemaker and moved with her husband around the country as he perused his career including stays in Rochester, NY; Wayland, MA; Lake Forest, IL; and Chicago, IL. She retired with her husband to South Dartmouth, MA and then later moved with him to Marion. She had a wonderful sense of humor, a zest for life, was an avid reader and loved spending time with her family. She was also a member emeritus of the New Bedford Yacht Club. MOVIE REVIEW

On the Road Again

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Warm Bodies. Starring Nicholas Hoult and Teresa Palmer. Directed by Jonathan Levine. Running time: 97 minutes. MPAA rating: PG-13.

A young man in a hoodie shambles aimlessly through an airport. He can't remember his name, but he thinks it begins with an R. The R may as well stand for Romeo, because he soon finds his Juliet, though he has to eat her boyfriend's brains first. Warm Bodies is a "zomromcom," a term inaugurated by 2004's witty modern classic Shaun of the Dead, and while this film isn't as funny, it's more romantic and has some intriguing twists on the zombie theme. R (Nicholas Hoult) is a relatively thoughtful and sensitive zombie — he provides self-deprecating narration, and he collects things that remind him of when he was alive. He stumbles across Julie (Teresa Palmer) when she's on a run for medicine in the city. He seems taken with her even before he consumes her boyfriend Perry's gray matter and experiences Perry's memories of — and feelings for — Julie.

In 1985's Return of the Living Dead, we were told that zombies eat brains because it alleviates "the pain of being dead." Warm Bodies pushes that notion further towards an emotional anodyne: eating brains takes a zombie out of his listless existence for a while, like a drug. R and a few other zombies of his acquaintance (including Rob Corddry) may be zombies, and they may kill and eat humans because they have to, but they're not as far gone yet as another kind of zombie. "Bonies," these others are called — skeletal ghouls who "gave up" and have become true anti-life monsters. Compared to them, R looks pretty decent, and Julie (who doesn't know R ate her sweetie's skull meat) allows R to look after her after he rescues her. Eventually she develops feelings for him, which is unfortunate, because her father (John Malkovich) is the gung-ho leader of a militaristic band of zombie-killing survivalists.

Warm Bodies isn't a romantic twist on the zombie movie so much as a zombie twist on the romance movie. There's a nicely fragile rapport between Hoult (who's delivered on the promise he showed in About a Boy a decade ago) and Palmer (who resembles Kristen Stewart but has more verve and humor). R and Julie look good and feel good together. We're asked to believe that their love not only slowly heals R but inspires his fellow zombies to do likewise. Mostly we do. We can take or leave the implied message that we must embrace life to avoid being dead — literally, in this case — but R and Julie are a strange enough couple to make the bromide go down easy. The movie also appealingly suggests that if you were a bit of an outcast in life, you'll manage to resist becoming one of the Bonies — you'll try to find ways to make death interesting, like piling up snow globes or listening to Guns 'n Roses.

This is director Jonathan Levine's second horror-themed film, after his debut, the slasher flick All the Boys Love Mandy Lane; some might also count 50/50, with cancer as the remorseless serial killer. Levine's work here is amiably rumpled, relaxing into the scenes of R playing his old '80s vinyl records for Julie or haltingly trying to converse with her. The movie doesn't stand out much in memory — nothing in it really pops — but it's enjoyable while it lasts. It provides a surprisingly nuanced showcase for Rob Corddry, who is often pretty funny but too often lapses into a cartoon of himself. Here he gives us an amusingly polite zombie, and his first non-conversation with R strikes the tone the movie needs. They could be just two regular guys mumbling at each other at an airport.

Warm Bodies is not anything like the Twilight of zombie movies — for one thing, it doesn't take itself stupidly seriously enough for that — though some horror fans offended by the softening (and sparkle-fication) of vampires in that series may likewise bristle at this film's apparent thesis that even if you're a zombie, all you need is love. Zombies, such people may say, eat people; that's all. (The villain of the piece, the gun-happy Malkovich character, agrees with them.) Some of us horror fans, though, get tired of the binary us-vs.-them formula and welcome some shading, especially in a subgenre as exhausted lately as the zombie film. When World War Z opens this summer, it's possible I'll be looking at some of the zombies slaughtered by the heroes and thinking "Wait, one of them could be R."

Tri-Town Relay for Life Meeting

The American Cancer Society Relay For Life Tri-Town Committee is holding its next meeting for the 2013 season on Wednesday, February 13 at 6:00 pm at the Old Rochester Regional High School Library, located at 135 Marion Road, Mattapoisett.

Relay For Life is the signature event of the American Cancer Society. It is a fun-filled, overnight event that mobilizes communities throughout the country to celebrate survivors (anyone who has ever been diagnosed with cancer), remember loved ones, commit to fight back through health lifestyle changes, and raise money for the fight against cancer.

Relay For Life is as much an awareness-raiser about the progress against cancer as it is a fundraiser. Individuals who are willing to give their time and energy to this exciting event, as a volunteer or participant, have made a commitment to fight back against this disease and let the community know that you can beat cancer.

Volunteers are needed to organize and recruit teams, seek community support, coordinate logistics, find refreshments and prizes, plan entertainment and lend their support in any way.

To learn more about Relay For Life, visit www.relayforlife.org. For information on the February 13 meeting, or if you would like to volunteer on the Relay For Life Tri-Town Committee, please contact Caryn Hodges Coulombe at 508-989-7805, Pam Houston at 508-922-4024 or Odd Johannesson at 508-971-0176.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You might feel bolder as each new success falls into place. But caution is still advised through the end of the week. Until then, a step-by-step approach is best.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) That cooperation you request could come at too high a price. Since few can beat the Bovine at being clever and resourceful, why not see what you can do on your own?

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Aspects favor a quieter time spent getting closer to the people who are especially important to you. There's always much more to learn and appreciate about each other.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) The concerned Crab will act to resolve workplace misunderstandings before they get out of hand and cause more-serious problems. Co-workers rally to support your efforts.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) What the Big Cat might see as a disturbing act of disloyalty might just be a failure of communication on both sides. Take time for mediation rather than confrontation.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Be more patient with those who seem unwilling to accept your version of what's right. The fact is, there's a lot more to learn on all sides of this issue.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) It should be easier to assess the facts you'll need to make an important decision. But don't commit if you still have doubts. There could be more you need to know.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your excitement level remains high as you continue working on that new project. Expect some setbacks. But on the whole, all will move pretty much on schedule.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) It might be wise to be more prudent with expenses right now. But your financial situation should soon clear up, and you could be back shopping, happily as ever.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might prefer sticking with your current schedule. But some newly emerging information could persuade you to consider a change. Keep an open mind.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You might want to reject a suggested change. But it could be wise to go with the flow, at least for a while. You can always return to your first plan if you like.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You're bolstered by both the practical and poetic sides of your nature as you maneuver through some unsettled emotional situations. Things ease up by week's end.

BORN THIS WEEK: People reach out to your generosity and wisdom, and consider you a trusted and treasured friend.

Mattapoisett Land Trust to Honor Volunteers

One of the Mattapoisett Land Trust's greatest and most appreciated assets is its band of enthusiastic volunteers. Members of our community help out in many ways, from staffing our booth at Harbor Days to assisting in cleanups and general maintenance. It is this background activity, probably invisible to many, that keeps protected lands open and available for both the members and the public at large. The MLT would like to invite its members and the public to join together for a convivial evening honoring these volunteers.

We will gather on Saturday, February 9 from 6:00 to 8:30 pm in Reynard Hall of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church, 27 Church Street. A light meal and refreshments will be served, including potluck blueberry desserts produced by the directors. The Mike Bliss Quartet from Old Rochester Regional High School will provide entertainment. A donation of $15 per person is suggested.

To make a reservation or for more information, you can contact the Land Trust by email at info@mattlandtrust.org or by calling 774-377-9191 and leaving a message.

Oh, by the way, never too busy for your referrals!

That's why we started the Lions Recycle for Sight program. Everyone can help. Throughout the year, Lions, Leos and other volunteers collect used eyeglasses and deliver them to Regional Lions Eyeglass Recycling Centers. Volunteers clean, sort by prescription strength and package the glasses. Most of the recycled glasses are distributed to people in need in developing countries where they will have the greatest impact.

If you have used eyeglasses you no longer need, you can donate them now. Lions accept prescription and reading glasses, sunglasses and plastic and metal frames. Children's glasses are especially needed.

Eyeglass collection boxes are located at the Laundromat, Town Hall, Library, the Mattapoissett Council on Aging office and the Marion Council on Aging office.

To find out more about the Mattapoissett Lions Club and how we serve the community, visit our website www.mattapoissettlionsclub.org or visit our Facebook page.

What happened at Marion Family Chiropractic in 2012?

A pregnant woman who was told her sciatica "would only get worse" as her pregnancy progressed found comfort through chiropractic care.

After years of visits to specialists, MRI's, and prescriptions, a teenager gets relief from chronic migraines through chiropractic adjustments.

A colicky infant now sleeps peacefully – as does the rest of her family!

The world is no longer spinning for a man who has had vertigo since crashing his bike.

A woman who was told she would need carpal tunnel surgery had her hand pain disappear in two weeks.

A nurse with months of acute low back pain found relief.

A breech baby turned just in time for his mother to have the natural childbirth she wanted.

Families stayed healthy through the winter with regular chiropractic care.

A visiting golfer with neck pain was able to enjoy his vacation in the area, and play the courses he planned.

A baby with difficulty nursing was able to immediately after his first adjustment.

An elementary school student can now go to sleepovers because he is no longer wetting the bed.

Twins diagnosed with acid reflux are now off all medications and enjoying all kinds of food.

An elderly neighbor with low back pain, who had been told she would just have to "live with it" "because that's part of getting old" is now active again and pain free.

Why did all of these different things happen to real people while under care at Marion Family Chiropractic?

A specific chiropractic adjustment opens the path from your brain to your body, so you live the way you should.

The winners will be announced on Tuesday, April 30 at 5:30 pm at the library at a pizza party. All participants in the program will be invited to attend.

Any child who reads at least 5 nominees will be invited to a “sleepover” in the library called “Quahog Night.” We will hold a sleepover for the boys on Friday, May 3 and a sleepover for the girls on Friday, May 10. The sleepovers will be from 7:00 pm to 7:00 am. There will be snacks, games, movies and crafts offered. Chaperones will, of course, be present.
